Dated : 10th January, 2007

Introduction:The State Government has accepted the revival package formulated by the Government of India. The revival package is aimed at reviving the short-term rural cooperative credit structure (CCS) and make it a well-managed and vibrant medium to serve the credit needs of rural areas especially the small and marginal farmers. It seeks to (a) provide financial assistance to bring the system to an acceptable level of health; (b) introduce legal and institutional reforms necessary for their democratic, self-reliant and efficient functioning; and (c) take measures to improve the quality of management. In order to implement the package in the State of Maharashtra, the State Government has entered into a memorandum of understanding with the Central Government and NABARD on 13 th November 2006. NABARD, as the 'Principal Implementing Agency' to implement the Package on behalf of Central Government, would arrange for conduct of special audits of PACS, DCCBs and StCB and release eligible financial assistance subject to fulfillment of the obligations by the State Government and the units in the CCS as outlined in the Package. The special audits of the CCS units would be undertaken shortly to estimate the quantum of eligible financial assistance under the package.

Government Resolution: It has been decided that all the CCS units viz., State Cooperative Bank (StCB), District Central Cooperative Banks (DCCBs) and Primary Agricultural Credit Societies (PACS including FSS & LAMPS) in the State of Maharashtra shall participate in the revival process. The said CCS units shall maintain the books of accounts upto date, render necessary assistance including preparation of necessary statements, production of books of accounts to the Implementing Agency or its representatives for the purpose of special audit or matters connected to the implementation of the Package.
